Project Hi-Rise by Robert F. Young. He always knew when I had to have it And he got it for me. I never helped him." The answer is that though all the genes are there in every cell of your body, they aren't all working alike. The cell is an intricate assemblage of chemical reactions, chemical building blocks, chemical products, and physical structures, all of which influence one another. Some genes are inhibited and some are stimulated, in a variety of ways depending on subtle factors, with the result that different cells in your body have genetic equipment in which only characteristic parts are working at characteristic rates.. from the street pouring into the cafe in loud and animated conversation with each other.
